Welcome to the 36th Season at Kahilu Theatre! This year we are presenting a brilliant celebration of “Indigenous and International” artists. From New Zealand and Australia to the Ivory Coast of West Africa, and from San Francisco to the hills of Appalachia, we will experience creativity in many languages. And, as is tradition, we will showcase extraordinary talent from our home island and across the Aloha State.

This year’s Season offers spectacular dance: Christopher Morgan is a Hawaiian storyteller at his sinuous best while Ailey II and Hervé Koubi companies will both shock and inspire. We have developed a brand new Kahilu Steinway Series, featuring beautiful music played by local and national talent.

We continue to strengthen our Arts Ed @ Kahilu programs with new classes and partnerships. We are delighted that our 16/17 Season artists will offer more than twenty Kahilu Youth Shows.

We are also pleased to announce our renewed commitment to promoting the visual arts through the gallery program, launching with “Kahilu Kapa,” in September. Our Kahilu Exhibits will feature solo and thematic group shows, along with numerous educational opportunities throughout the season.

Finally, we hope you notice our new look. We’ve updated our visual identity with a new logo and associated colors, reflecting the synergy of receiving and sharing knowledge, both in our community and in the world. It speaks directly to our commitment as an arts organization to provide a dynamic and creative environment where learning and teaching happen in many ways.

With your continued enthusiasm, we will continue to make a place where community, creativity, and inspiration thrive for many years to come!

As always, we are grateful for your patronage,

Maunalua
Friday, December 23, 7pm $68 / $58 / $48 / $20
Maunalua features Bobby Moderow, Jr., Kahi Kaonohi, and Richard Gideon known for its tight harmonies, accentuated by Moderow’s falsetto and prowess with slack key guitar. A longtime favorite with audiences all over Hawaii, their always-entertaining performances range from fun, high energy songs to sweet and soulful ballads.

Sponsored by Peter Souza, Kalei Kamalani & Matthew Kamalani, Working Class Hawaii

Makana
Saturday, February 11, 7pm $68 / $58 / $48 / $20
Makana is an internationally acclaimed guitarist, singer, composer, and activist who lends his musical talent for social change. He has been a TEDx presenter and is considered to be one the “greatest living players” of Ki Ho’alu.

Sponsored by Charlie & Lisa Anderson, Cathi Keene, Owo’s Farm, Frank Snow

Robert Cazimero
Saturday, May 13, 7pm $68 / $58 / $48 / $20
Hawaii’s most revered and beloved kumu hula and singer returns to Kahilu Theatre to carry on with an unbroken thirty-two year-old tradition – celebrating May Day in Waimea. Robert is always one of the highlights of our season.

Sponsored by Marianne Maynard

Kahilu Gold Concerts bring exceptional artists to perform in intimate, beautiful places on Hawaii Island. With a backdrop of night skies, ocean breezes, and island style living, the concerts are hosted by theatre patrons, and benefit the Arts Ed @ Kahilu programs.

Always a festive occasion, the events also feature performances by students from the Kahilu Performing Arts Classes.

Tickets $150

This event will be full of family fun and entertainment, held inside and surrounding the Theatre. It will feature live music, face painting, balloon animals and other engaging activities.

Education at Kahilu Theatre
Education at Kahilu Theatre is our passion and priority. We sponsor programs, year-round, for students of all ages.

Kahilu Youth Shows are one of our most delightful and enduring activities, performed by visiting artists. Youth Shows offer students ages five to eighteen, from public and private schools, as well as home-schoolers, a rare opportunity to experience live music, dance, and theatre of very high quality.

Performing Arts Classes & Camps

Classes
Fall & Spring semesters in dance, acting, singing, aerial dance, circus arts and musical theatre are offered throughout the school year, enriching lives with more than thirty hours of weekly instruction to 200-plus students. Classes take place on the main stage and in the Mike Luce Studio. We also offer scholarships for these classes.

Camps
During summer break we sponsor two-week long programs to engage and inspire our youth.

- Dance Camp - Summer dance camp for students ages nine to fifteen, in which they will be instructed in ballet, contemporary dance, hip hop, improv and more.
- KPAW (Kahilu Performing Arts Workshop) - Summer musical theatre for students ages seven to twelve, directed by members of the Kahilu Youth Troupe.
- Kahilu Circus Camp - Two weeks of juggling, unicycle, aerial, and tumbling for students ages nine to fifteen.

Kahilu Master Classes invite community members of all ages to learn from experts in their genres. This season’s Master Classes will be provided by Ailey II, The Wonderheads, and others.

Partnerships
K-Arts is a collaboration with Waimea Middle School that gives young people instruction in a variety of performing arts and back stage tech, culminating with performances each semester. This year we branch out with a newly formed partnership with Kohala Schools in developing K-Arts Kohala.
Kahilu Exhibits presents solo and thematic group shows and features local and global works of art from both emerging and established visual artists. Gallery outreach includes lectures, workshops, tours and publications. We encourage school visits to the Theatre and expect to host thousands of students to view our exhibits as a catalyst for creativity and growth.

Kahilu Kapa  Sep 15 - Nov 6
“Kahilu Kapa” opens the Exhibit Season and features over a dozen celebrated practitioners of the revered Hawaiian art form from across the state and on our own doorstep. There will be an exhibit opening reception and a symposium the following day. We invite the public to both events to marvel at the intricate and beautiful work, and to learn more about the extraordinary artists making Kapa today.

Spirits of Ocean and Land  Nov 9 - Dec 21
In the mid-70’s, photographer Wayne Levin and sculptor/poet Jozuf Hadley (Pidgin to da Max) collaborated on an art project. Since that time both have become icons of Hawaiian art and culture. “Spirits of Ocean and Land” combines their friendship and their current work into an exhibition of their signature creative expressions, and offers a new way of looking at the natural world of the Pacific Islands.

Transcending Palms  Nov 9 - Dec 21
Shelley Hoist, winner of last year’s “Art Off the Wall” juried exhibition, was awarded an exhibition in the Hamakua Gallery this season. In her exhibit, “Transcending Palms,” she uses sustainable and recycled elements to create her work, with an intention to strengthen the viewer’s connection to the natural world.

Voyager Exhibit  Jan 2 - Feb 12
The annual exhibit features documentary photography of Hokule’a voyages along with educational displays about Polynesian ocean navigation.

Hawaii Island Juried Exhibition  Mar 31 - Apr 28
Annual juried exhibit showcasing local Hawaii Island visual artists.

Waimea Schools Exhibit  Date TBD
Exhibit featuring students, parents, and faculty.
